- 11.3 The statutory provisions according the commercial obligation to examine and give notice of defects (§§ 377, 381 HGB) shall apply as follows: Funkwerk's obligation to inspect is limited to defects which become evident in Funkwerk's incoming goods inspection including the inspection of delivery documents as well as in Funkwerk's quality control by random sampling (e.g. transport damages, incorrect and short delivery). If an acceptance is agreed, there is no obligation to inspect. In addition, the extent of an investigation depends on the circumstances of the individual case after the proper course of business.
Any evident defects and other open defects shall be rebuked within four (4) business days from delivery. Funkwerk will rebuke hidden defects within four (4) business days from the discovery of the defect.
- 11.4 If transport damage is discovered by Funkwerk's incoming goods department, a joint inspection of the situation by Funkwerk's incoming goods department and the freight forwarder or an inspection of the situation by Funkwerk's incoming goods department shall be acknowledged by Supplier as the basis of the notification of defects.
- 11.5 If Funkwerk returns defective goods to Supplier, Funkwerk shall be entitled to debit the invoice amount plus an expenses lump-sum of 5% of the defective goods. Funkwerk reserves the right to prove higher expenditure. The right to prove less or no expenditure shall be reserved for the Supplier.

- 12.1 Unless otherwise stipulated in these General Terms and Conditions of Purchasing, the statutory provisions shall apply to Funkwerk's warranty rights (including incorrect and short delivery as well as improper assembly, faulty assembly, operating instructions) and other breaches of duty by the Supplier.
- 12.2 According to the statutory provisions, the goods must have the agreed quality ("subjective requirements") as well as fulfil the expectations of an objective buyer, i.e. the usual quality ("objective requirements"). In any case, those product descriptions which - in particular by designation or reference in Funkwerk's orders - are the subject matter of the respective contract or which have been included in the contract in the same way as these General Terms and Conditions of Purchase shall be deemed to be an agreement on the quality. It makes no difference whether the product description originates from Funkwerk, the Supplier or the manufacturer.
- 12.3 In the case of goods with digital elements or other digital content, the Supplier shall be responsible for providing and updating the digital content to the extent that this results from a quality agreement in accordance with Section 12.2 or other product descriptions of the manufacturer or on its behalf, in particular on the Internet, in advertising or on the product label.
- 12.4 By way of derogation from § 442 (1) sentence 2 BGB (German Civil Code), Funkwerk is entitled to claim warranty rights even if the defect at the conclusion of the contract has remained unknown due to gross negligence. Funkwerk is not obliged to inspect the goods or to make special enquiries about any defects upon conclusion of the contract.
- 12.5 Supplier shall bear the risk of accidental deterioration and accidental destruction in the time in which the object of delivery or service is not in Funkwerk's custody for the purpose of supplementary performance.
- 12.6 Subsequent performance shall also include the removal of the defective goods and reinstallation, provided that the goods were installed in another item or attached to another item in accordance with their nature and intended use before the defect became apparent; Funkwerk's statutory claim for reimbursement of corresponding expenses (removal and installation costs) shall remain unaffected. The expenses necessary for the purpose of inspection and subsequent performance, in particular transport, travel, labour and material costs as well as any dismantling and installation costs, shall be borne by the Supplier even if it turns out that there was actually no defect. Funkwerk's liability for damages in the event of an unjustified request to remedy a defect shall remain unaffected; however, Funkwerk shall only be liable in this respect if it was recognised or grossly negligently failed to recognise that there was no defect.

- 12.7 If the Supplier fails to fulfil its obligation to subsequent performance – at Funkwerk's discretion by removing the defect (rectification) or by delivering a defect-free product/ performance (subsequent delivery) – within a reasonable period set by Funkwerk, Funkwerk can remedy the defect itself or have it remedied by a third party and demand compensation from the Supplier for the necessary expenses or a corresponding advance. If the subsequent performance by Supplier has failed or is unacceptable to Funkwerk (in particular with special urgency, threat to operational safety or to prevent unusually high damages), an appointment of a date for subsequent performance is unnecessary; Funkwerk will inform the Supplier of such circumstances without delay, if possible beforehand. This also applies if the Suppliers delivers or performs delayed, and Funkwerk must immediately remedy any defects in order to avoid an own delivery delay.
- 12.8 Apart from this, Funkwerk's statutory rights shall remain unaffected.
- 12.9 The statute of limitations is 36 months from the passing of risk. Insofar as Funkwerk is entitled to non-contractual claims for damages due to a defect, the statutory limitation period (§§ 195, 199 BGB) shall apply to this extent, unless the application of the aforementioned limitation periods for contractual deficiency claims leads to a longer limitation period.
- 12.10 In the case of acceptance of a Premature Delivery (as defined in Section 4.4) by Funkwerk, the statute of limitations for all contractual claims for defects shall be extended by the period between acceptance of the Premature Delivery and the agreed performance / delivery date.

13. Supplier recourse

- 13.1 Funkwerk is entitled to the statutory claims for expenses and recourse within a supply chain (supplier recourse pursuant to Sections 445a, 445b of the German Civil Code) in addition to claims for defects. In particular, Funkwerk is entitled to demand from the Supplier exactly the type of subsequent performance (repair or replacement delivery) that Funkwerk owes its customers in individual cases; in the case of goods with digital elements or other digital content, this also applies with regard to the provision of necessary updates. The statutory right of choice (Section 439 Paragraph 1 of the German Civil Code) is not restricted by this.
- 13.2 Before Funkwerk acknowledges or fulfils a defect claim asserted by its customers (including reimbursement of expenses in accordance with Sections 445a Paragraph 1, 439 Paragraph 2, 3, 6 Sentence 2, 475 Paragraph 4 of the German Civil Code), Funkwerk will notify the Supplier and ask for a written statement with a brief explanation of the facts. If a substantiated statement is not made within a reasonable period of time and no amicable solution is reached, the defect claim actually granted by Funkwerk is deemed to be owed to our customer. In this case, the Supplier is responsible for providing evidence to the contrary.
- 13.3 Funkwerk's claims for supplier recourse also apply if the defective goods were combined with another product or further processed in any other way by Funkwerk, its customers or a third party, e.g. by fitting, attaching or installing.

14. Product liability – Indemnification

- 14.1 To the extent that Supplier is responsible for a product error, it shall be obliged to indemnify Funkwerk against claims to damages by third parties at first request to the extent that the cause can be found in its sphere of control and organisation and it is liable itself in the external relationship.
- 14.2 Within the framework of its liability for damage within the meaning of sub-section 1, Supplier shall also be obliged to reimburse all and any expenditure resulting from or in connection with any recall action held by Funkwerk pursuant to §§ 683, 670 BGB and also pursuant to §§ 830, 840, 426 BGB. To the extent possible and reasonable, Funkwerk shall notify Supplier of the contents and the scope of the recall measures to be held and grant it the opportunity of commenting. Any further statutory claims remain unaffected.
- 14.3 The Supplier must have a product liability insurance with an amount of coverage of at least one (1) million euro per person / property damage.

15. Protective rights

- 15.1 The Supplier guarantees that no rights of third parties are infringed in connection with its delivery or performance.
- 15.2 If claims are made against Funkwerk by a third party on account of alleged breaches of protective rights, Supplier shall be obliged to indemnify Funkwerk against said claims at first written request, unless it is not responsible for the breach of the protective rights. The indemnification duty shall cover all expenditure incurred by Funkwerk in connection with the claim made by third parties.
- 15.3 Funkwerk shall not be entitled to make any agreements with the third parties without Supplier's approval, in particular not concluding any settlements.
- 15.4 The statute of limitations for the claim to indemnification shall be two years from Funkwerk's knowledge or gross negligent lack of knowledge of the circumstances substantiating the claim. Apart from this, the claim to indemnification shall expire ten years from its origination without regard to the knowledge.

16. Regulations in relation to the Minimum Wage Law (Mindestlohngesetz – MiLoG)

- 16.1 Funkwerk may be held liable according to § 13 MiLoG in connection with § 14 AEntG (Code on the Posting of Workers), if and insofar as the Supplier or its subcontractors do not or not fully pay minimum wage. Therefore Supplier guarantees, that it and its subcontractors fully pay at the due dates at least the minimum wage to their employees according to § 1 MiLoG. Supplier accepts to reimburse Funkwerk for any damages occurring in relation to any claims resulting from Suppliers or its subcontractors' non-compliance with the above provisions. § 774 BGB remains unaffected.
- 16.2 Funkwerk is entitled to demand from Supplier at any time evidence of payment of the minimum wage by the Supplier and its subcontractors. In case Supplier does not provide evidence within 3 weeks from the demand or in case indications suggest that Supplier or its subcontractors are not paying the minimum wage, Funkwerk is entitled to terminate the contractual relationship with immediate effect.
- 16.3 Supplier is obliged to agree the right to demand evidence as referred to above with its subcontractors in its and Funkwerk's favour, provided that such subcontractors do involve own employees in the execution of the contractual relationship. The same applies for the obligation to have granted respective rights in relation to subcontractors of the subcontractors.

16.4 To secure the claims referred to above, Funkwerk retains 5 % of the order amount, provided that the aforementioned evidence has not consistently and completely been provided. In relation to contracts for the performance of continuing obligations, the order amount of a year at most will be taken as the basis for the calculation of the amount to be retained. If and when the security interests do not longer exist, Funkwerk will release the retained amount. If the contract concluded contains the obligation to conduct an acceptance, the retained amount will be released at the end of the third year following the year, where the acceptance has occurred, unless Funkwerk indicates to Supplier claims according to § 13 MiLoG. The same applies in case of § 646 BGB. In case no acceptance is agreed, the retained amount will be released at the end of the third year after the year, where the contract expires, unless Funkwerk indicates to Supplier claims according to § 13 MiLoG. Supplier is entitled has the right to replace the retained amount by a directly enforceable guarantee of a national financial institution with an equivalent terms.
